The war. To the south of Verdun and to the northeast of Citey the French made several attacks, which were unsuccessful.

Operations in the eastern arena made further favorable progress, but detailed reports are not yet at hand.

Russian War Fleet Goes Out to Fight Germans in Baltic

LONDON, Nov. 17.—[Associated Press.]—A despatch from Copenhagen to the Star says it is learned from a German source that a Russian squadron has left Helsinki, Finland.

It is steering southwest with the supposed intention of engaging the German Baltic squadron.

A correspondent of the Daily News at Dunkirk, France, says: "There was heavy fighting around Ypres Monday. The casualties were large, but the battle resulted in a victory for the allies."

"The German casualties are estimated at 100,000 in the past four days." A report from The Hague declares that the battle on the Yser cost the lives of 6,000 Berlin students between the ages of seventeen and twenty.

The following story of the wiping out of 3,000 Germans comes from a wounded soldier from the Ypres front:

"The fighting at Ypres was terrible in violence. For forty hours we fought foot and foot with the enemy, employing every resource of infantry and artillery."

"On Sunday a regiment of 3,000 Germans attacked our position. At a distance of 100 yards our artillery opened a terrible fire and mowed them down. They recoiled, but reformed and returned. This time they reached the hundred-yard mark and again recoiled and reformed."

"With only a third of their original strength they advanced again. Our officers ordered us to hold our fire and let them advance. At twenty yards the order came to 'let them have it.' We did, and the German regiment ceased to exist."

"In less than an hour 3,000 men had been exterminated."

GERMAN WARSHIP SUNK BY BRAZILIAN GUNBOAT; ALL LOST

Converted Cruiser, Interned, Tried to Flee at Night, Reports Ship Surgeon.

Dr. A. J. Fulton, ship's surgeon of the Booth line steamer, Francis, which arrived from South America Nov. 15, with a cargo of raw sugar, told an Evening World reporter to-day he had good authority for saying a Brazilian gunboat sank a German converted cruiser in the Atlantic off Pernambuco, Brazil, on the night of Oct. 1. He said he did not learn the name of the cruiser.

According to Dr. Fulton, the German converted cruiser was chased into Pernambuco Harbor by English cruisers and anchored there, remaining beyond the time limit set by the laws of neutrality. Accordingly, she was interned by the Brazilian Government and her captain was imprisoned to remain in the harbor until after the war.

Instead of obeying the order, Dr. Fulton said, the German captain took a desperate chance and put to sea on the night of Sept. 30. He was chased by the Brazilian torpedo boat destroyer No. 4, which overtook him and forced him to return to the harbor.

At dusk on Oct. 1, Dr. Fulton said, the German captain hoisted anchor and slipped out to sea. Again the torpedo boat destroyer gave chase, but this time No. 4 came back to Pernambuco alone.

The agent of the Booth Line at Pernambuco, who talked with the lieutenant in command of the torpedo boat destroyer, told Dr. Fulton the German ship was sunk by the fire from the war vessel. Dr. Fulton's understanding is that all hands on the German ship were lost.

PIMPLES DISFIGURED FACE AND HANDS

Itched and Burned. Hard, Red and Inflamed. Last Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Pimples Completely Disappeared.

555 Delancey St., New York, N. Y.—I was about to appear on my face and hands a most revolting and repulsive eruption of pimples and sores. My face and hands were terribly disfigured. My skin itched and burned. My face and hands were covered with hard, red and inflamed pimples. I had been using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for some time, but it did not seem to do any good. I was very much distressed and was about to give up when I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bought a box and used it as directed. In a few days the pimples and sores had completely disappeared. My face and hands were now as smooth and clear as before. I am very much pleased with the result and recommend Cuticura Soap and Ointment to all who are troubled with pimples and sores.

Many other remedies for the eruption had been used, but it was not until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment that I was cured. I am now as healthy and happy as ever. I am very much pleased with the result and recommend Cuticura Soap and Ointment to all who are troubled with pimples and sores.

CRACOW SHELLED AND NOW ON FIRE, VENICE REPORTS

Russians Said to Have Attacked the City From the North.

GERMANS AGGRESSIVE.

Attempting to Drive the Russian Invaders From East Prussia.

ROME, Nov. 17.—News has reached Venice that part of Cracow is ablaze. The inhabitants are fleeing, including many Italians.

Cracow is being attacked on the north and is expected to fall immediately. The overwhelming advance of the Russians toward the city is overcoming all obstacles, both the difficulty of passing and the desperate resistance of the Austrians.

The Giornale d'Italia hears from Petrograd that the Austrian garrison of Przemyśl attempted a sortie, but was almost entirely annihilated by the Russian troops forming a ring about the fortress.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—[Associated Press.]—According to reports from Berlin the Germans are confident of a favorable outcome to their renewed offensive along the River Warthe, and their ability to resume the aggressive shows strikingly the advantage which the possession of strategic railroads gives a warring power.

The Germans are determined to force the invaders from East Prussia and they are striking two blows—one from the north and the other from the northwest—in the general direction of Plock and Kutno, with the object of paralyzing the Russian advance along the southern frontier of East Prussia.

The actual situation in Cracow is becoming a mystery to London. One report has the Russians actually investing the town, which is declared to be in flames. Several reports have reached London that the Germans have left the defense of Cracow to the Austrians, who in their turn are expected to surrender rather than have the city bombarded. But the latest reports from Petrograd declare that the German force have rejoined the Austrian garrison in the defense of the Cracow fortress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (United Press).—It was asserted here to-day that the advance toward Thorn will soon be resumed. A strong German counter-offensive developed along the Vistula toward Plock, but has not been checked. The advance in East Prussia is declared to be progressing favorably.

A report from the general staff of the Caucasian Army confirms the report from Turkish sources that the Russians had received a check near Erzerum. It says: "The march of our advance guard in the direction of Erzerum has been delayed by the Russian forces. The march was dictated, not by our own will, but by the necessity of fulfilling the task imposed on our advance guard."

The report tells of a number of Russian successes on the march in Turkish Armenia and declares that the Turkish offensive against the Russian forces on the route along the coast has failed. The Turkish movement, it is declared, met with serious losses and their reserves were annihilated.

BERLIN, Germany, via The Hague (United Press).—A general review of the situation in the eastern arena, based on information given out in Berlin, indicates that the latest German victories are such that the advance of the Russians has been rendered more difficult. This success must not be overestimated, however, as the Russian forces, though severe, do not mean that the Russian movement has collapsed. Considering the enormous numbers of available soldiers, it does not even mean the discontinuation of the Russian offensive.

The great difficulty for the Russians is found on the Baltic, which separates both wings of their army. The Russian army, which was beaten near Wloclawek and which apparently came from Warsaw, was driven back in a southerly direction, but met in the direction from which it had advanced. It was forced along a road running from Kutno to Gombel, while the northern Russian army, operating near Soldau, was forced back to Plock by way of Lipno.

SWITZERLAND HAS NO PACT WITH GERMANY AND AUSTRIA AGAINST ITALY.

BERNE, via Paris, Nov. 17 (12.55 A. M.).—Repeated statements appearing in the Italian press that Switzerland had entered into a secret convention with Austria and Germany, binding herself to support with her army an invasion of Northern Italy and to permit an Austro-German force to pass through Switzerland in the event of Italy abandoning her neutrality in favor of the Triple Entente, has brought forth a strong protest from the Swiss Government. The existence of any such convention is denied, and it is declared that the reports are an insult to Switzerland and her army.

HAI THE DARK SECRET COMES TO LIGHT AT LAST! EGGS ARE NOT RUSSIANS!

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Rumors of Russian troops crossing England early in the war grew out of a carelessness of the telegraph operator. He omitted the word "eggs" in a message from a Scottish dealer to a London buyer which read: "After thousands of eggs have been sent to you, the message should be that they are not Russians."

AMSTERDAM, via London, Nov. 17 (Associated Press).—The Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant quotes a letter from a Galician priest saying that 40,000 Austrians have been buried in a single grave four miles long.

GEN. DE WET, LEADER OF BOER REBELLION, WOUNDED IN HEAD.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—A Pretoria despatch to Reuters' Telegram Company states that Gen. Christian DeWet, who headed the recent rebellion in the Orange Free State and the Western Transvaal, has been wounded in the head. DeWet's followers are reported as much shocked. It is said that they are poorly armed and lack skill in the use of modern weapons.

HIS FORMER WIFE SUES MILLIONAIRE FOR BACK ALIMONY

Mrs. Maude M. Turner's Action Against Cotton Man Reveals Odd Agreement.

The matrimonial declaration of independence made its appearance in the Supreme Court to-day. Thomas M. Turner, multi-millionaire cotton dealer, and his second wife, Maude M. Turner, drew it up in the form of a separation agreement. Here are some of its terms:

Turner agrees to allow his wife to be as free from his marital control as though she were "femme sole and unmarried."

Each agrees not to interfere with the actions of the other by stipulating that each shall "live in any manner they or either of them shall choose or deem proper."

Turner agrees never to sue his wife for living apart from him and never to molest any other person for "receiving, harboring or entertaining her."

Each agrees not to visit the other without previous consent, and never knowingly to go into a house where the other is living.

The existence of the agreement became known when Mrs. Turner filed suit to recover $4,150 she alleges her husband failed to pay her as he agreed in the contract. She says he has failed to make payments after agreeing to pay her $4,000 a year for life.

Papers in the suit were served on Turner in his office at No. 346 Broadway. He could not be found there this afternoon.

Mrs. Turner No. 2, who was Maude May, separated from her husband in 1905 and divorced him in 1911. His first wife was Maggie Grigby, adopted daughter of the matron of the Groton School in Massachusetts.

In February, 1912, Turner married his ward, Miss Mary E. Winthrop, who was once a chorus girl.

TELLS HOW SIEGEL WIPED A $658,000 DEBT OFF BOOKS

States you suggested that he get his lawyer to attend to that? A. I don't remember the "fine old fellow."

Q. Did you testify to this yesterday voluntarily? A. No, with reluctance.

Q. Didn't you make an affidavit six months ago in which you made the same statement, when it wasn't dragged out of you? A. I had a talk with Mr. Train and did not make the affidavit. After half an hour's talk with him he placed me in a position of either lying or making a truthful statement about my conversation with Mr. Siegel.

Q. Do you think that Mr. Siegel, with his reputation, coupled with his remarkable and unusual physique, could go anywhere and escape detection? A. I don't know.

MAX PAM WAS PRESENT AT MEETING.

Do you know of any meeting of stockholders at which Mr. Pam was present when the action of the executive members, Siegel and Vogel, in cancelling $600,000 of the debt of the Simpson Crawford Company was disavowed and repudiated? A. Yes. There was a meeting in Mr. Pam's office on March 24, 1914, when such action was taken and a resolution passed looking to the protection of the Siegel Stores Corporation against the Simpson Crawford Company.

PRESIDENT MAY FORM BELGIAN RELIEF BOARD BY INDIRECT METHOD.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—While President Wilson has decided not to appoint an all-American central committee to take charge of Belgian relief measures, he is considering the advisability for forming such a committee in an indirect way. He may write to some one suggesting the organization of such a committee. The President does not desire to take any official action.

Mr. Wilson learned to-day that efforts are being made to bring groups of Belgian refugees to the United States to establish settlements, especially in the South.

He does not think the immigration law preventing likely public charges from entering the United States would interfere. Assurances could be given, he said, that Belgians would be cared for after their arrival.

WASHINGTON NOT WORRIED BY THE NEUTRALITY OF SOUTHERN REPUBLICS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Questions of neutrality of South American countries do not concern the United States in a strict sense, President Wilson declared to-day. He expressed the hope that assurances of neutrality given by Ecuador and Colombia would be sufficient to satisfy Great Britain and France, which are contented the German forces have been receiving aid from ports of those nations.

The flames spread to the lower part of the elevator, making the total destruction of the building and its contents almost certain. The probable loss was estimated at $1,000,000.

Seven firemen were injured. Six flames jumped fifty feet into the air and were extinguished. Another tried to slide down a 125-foot rope but became exhausted and fell the last forty feet.

JARED FLAGG SENTENCED.

Investment Broker Given Term of Eighteen Months.

Judge Dudkin, in the Federal District Court, this afternoon sentenced Jared Flagg to serve eighteen months in the Atlanta Penitentiary for using the mails with intent to defraud investors. Flagg, when asked if he had anything to say, before sentence was pronounced, proclaimed his innocence and presented more than 500 contracts with investors, saying Judge Rudkin said it was too late to present evidence, and having decided a new trial imposed sentence.

After imposing sentence, Judge Rudkin granted a stay of execution and committed to Flagg's release on $50,000 bail pending an appeal.
